

Fall 2008

Franz Camenzind, executive director of the Jackson Hole Conservation Alliance for the past 12 years, will be retiring in 2009, so we're searching for someone to help fill his shoes. A press release about Franz' retirement is available at:

www.jhalliance.org/Library/PressReleases/FranzRetirement.JHCA7-08.pdf

Executive Director Sought

The Jackson Hole Conservation Alliance, a nonprofit environmental organization at the gateway to Yellowstone and Grand Teton national parks, seeks a passionate and skilled Executive Director to lead the organization into its 4th decade of partnering for a wild and beautiful valley. With 2,000 members and an annual budget approaching $700,000, the Alliance is a respected and knowledgeable voice, inspiring people to stand up for responsible growth. Our focus involves land-use planning and wildlife management on public and private lands within the southern portion of the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem. Responsibilities include: leading a staff of 8 in evaluating and advocating public policy issues; developing strong member, community and government relations; fundraising; working closely with a volunteer board; and ensuring continued organizational success to maintain harmony between human activities and the area's irreplaceable wildlife, scenic and other natural resources. Salary & benefits DOE/competitive with similar-sized organizations in the region. Send cover letter and resume to: E.D. Search, Jackson Hole Conservation Alliance, PO Box 2728, Jackson, WY, 83001, or edsearch@jhalliance.org. Deadline: Until filled. No phone calls, please.

-- # # # --

The Jackson Hole Conservation Alliance is a non-profit organization dedicated to responsible land stewardship to ensure that human activities are in harmony with the area's irreplaceable wildlife, scenic and other natural resources.